The article discusses the concept of cybercrime complaints and how to file a cybercrime complaint both offline and online. What is cybercrime? Any activity of an illegal nature involving the use of any network or networked device or computer as a means of committing such activity is known as a cybercrime. It can be inferred from the definition that \\\"computer\\\\" is the main element that is used as a tool to directly commit a cybercrime or can be used to target other computers or devices. The first category that requires the computer as a direct weapon involves committing crimes such as cyberterrorism, pornography, Intellectual Property Rights Violations, etc. Whereas in this latter category crimes such as hacking, virus attacks etc are committed. The following is the process of filing a cybercrime is a criminal activity that is carried out by the use of computers and the internet. Some of the common cybercrime is a criminal activity that is carried out by the use of computers and the internet. card fraud, and phishing. To address the issue of cybercrime, the CIDs (Criminal Investigation Departments) of several cities have opened cybercrime cells in different cities. India's Information Technology Act clearly states that when a cybercrime has been committed, it has a global jurisdiction. and therefore a claim can be registered in any cyber cell. Click here for help from a cyber lawyer Step by Step Procedures to File a Cyber Crime Complaint Step 1- The main step is to file a complaint step is to file a complaint against cybercrime and the person who committed it with the cyber police or with the India cyber cell. Several departments to investigate crimes in several cities have been established by cybercrime cells. These departments not only investigate the crime, but also take responsibility for having the crime reported on time. The victim can, at any time, make a report to the cyber cell crime investigation department, both through the online and offline method. You can also call the number of the cyber cell crime helpline. Step 2 - You may need to provide name, email address, and phone number, along with an application letter addressed to the head of a cybercrime investigation cell when filing a complaint. The list of documents varies with the type of cybercrime. A requirement to file the complaint is to attach or attach the documents that fully support the facts of the case. The type of documents required to be attached at the time of the registration of the cybercrimes committed. If you want to know more about cyber law, you can take this course. Online CyberCrime ComplaintS In recent decades, the advancement of technology and the number of internet it is obvious that there will be cons to overuse as well. Instead of the excessive use of certain online crimes are also committed and therefore for the protection of the victim it is necessary to take steps to record the complaint and subpoena the officials on the practice of the crime to punish the accused. The first step can file a cyber Cell India is the department that handles cyber complaint online and offline and therefore the first step is to report the complaint to this department. You can also call the number of the cybercrime cell by the victim in the city in which he is. But since cybercrime is under the purview of global jurisdiction, therefore, it is implied that one can file a cyber complaint in the cyber phone- Name of the victim///person who records the complaint, their contact details, Mailing address. The written complaint must be addressed to the head of the department. Step 4 If you do not have access to india's cyber cell, you can report the matter to the local police station by submitting a First Information Report. If the complaint for any reason is not accepted at the police station, then the judicial magistrate or the commissioner can be approached. Step 5 Also submit a First Information Report at the disposal of the Indian Penal Code if the offence falls within the scope of this Code. it is the obligation of all police officers to file the complaint, since it was mandatory under section 154 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Since most cybercrimes under the Indian Penal Code are are under the category of gnizable offenses, therefore, there is no requirement of any arrest warrant to arrest, there is no requirement of any warrant. Cyberbullying when an unknown attacker uses the electronic form of harassment that involves using some severe terms to fully affect the victim. The intention is to insult the victim Posting humiliating rumors, nasty comments, posting hateful comments to trigger political, religious and ethical beliefs or people's point of view are some of the types of cyberbullying. Steps to stop Cyberbullying The current generation has grown using technology and is well versed with it. Therefore, it is essential to keep a check on them and it is the duty of parents to maintain a control over their children's activities. Because teens have less maturity and understanding to make the difference between what is right and what is wrong, this is the reason why they are more vulnerable to cyberbullying and that is why it is crucial that parents have a constant check of their children's activities while using the internet. There are several warning signs to be examined to see if the person in your home is intimidated or may be intimidated or may be intimidated or may be intimidated or may be intimidated or child, The tendency to avoid healthy online discussions, concealment of other profile, behavior indifferent in relation to social activities. Signs of getting stressed or depressed etc. After observing all the warning signs if there is a situation of the person facing cyber bullying, then it is essential to report the case to the cybercrime cell as soon as possible Measures to prevent cyber bullying are followed by as-. Step 1: Educate yourself If you want to prevent cyber bullying, then it is very important for you and your children to understand exactly what it is. Step 2: Protect your password and all private information from curious colleagues. Never give bullies a chance to post something embarrassing about you. Step 3: Raising Awareness is the responsibility of all parents and individuals to raise awareness is the responsibility of all parents and individuals to raise awareness about cyberbullying whether through a movement, a club of an event or campaign. Step 4: Set up privacy controls Change your privacy controls and restrict who can see your profiles only to trusted friends. Step 5: Never open messages from people you don't know, delete them without reading them as they could contain viruses and infect your computer. You'd better not get involved and ignore them. Step 6: Always log off your accounts on public computers, you run the risk of the bully changing your password and locking it for a period of time. So don't give anyone the slightest chance to impersonate you or share false information. Step 7: Don't be a cyber bully We can't see change in society until and unless we promise to change ourselves. It is your responsibility to treat others as you want to be treated. If you find someone being cyber bully. Ransomware It is a form of malware or malicious software that after taking control of the computer restricts the person to access their own system. To prevent the system from infecting ransomware, it is essential to defend the system itself by keeping it up to date and installing the software only after knowing every detail about it. Such defensive measures must necessarily be taken into account. Installing antivirus software is another defensive step that helps in detecting such malicious software. Keeping a backup of documents and files is really important and automatic backup should also be done. Cyber pursuit The term stalking refers to maintaining a check or surveillance on a particular person by an individuals. When it is done through the internet media or following the other person constantly on your social media account, then it is known as cyberstalking. It often takes a form of harassment and is overriding cyberstalking. According to account, then it is known as cyberstalking. It often takes a form of harassment and is overriding cyberstalking. According to this provision any man who follows or repeatedly contacts a woman or tries to do so for the purpose of promoting personal interaction, despite the clear indication of a woman or tries to the crime of persecution. There is an exception to this section that the persecution made for the following purposes will not be punishable under any law or to comply with any condition or requirement imposed by any person under any law; or in particular circumstances such conduct was reasonable and justified. Measures to protect against cybercrime are followed as- Step 1: Use a good internet suite There are many good internet security suites available on the market. Simply purchase the premium version of any security suite that helps you protect your financial information whenever you go online. Step 2: Use strong passwords on different sites, always try to make them complex as you use a combination of at least 12 letters, symbols and numbers. Step 3: Keep your software up to date Whenever your system asks to update it. Because cybercriminals often use known exploits, or flaws, in their software to gain access to your system. When the system software is updated, then there is less chance that you will become a cyber target. Step 4: Manage your social media settings It is advisable to keep your personal and private information blocked because cybercriminals can often have access to your personal information with only a few data points, so the less you share publicly, the better it would be for you. Step 5: Strengthen your home network It is advisable to use a strong encryption password as well as a virtual private network. Use a VPN whenever you use a public wi-fi network, be it a café, hotel, airport, or library. Step 6: Learn what to do if you become a victim The first thing you can do is identify what kind of cyber crime was committed then the next thing is that you need to alert your city's cyber cell in case if you don't have any cyber cells in your city then you need to alert the local police. It's important even if the crime seems minor because it can prevent these criminals from taking advantage of other people in the future. To learn more, you can visit the Norton website.
