His unconscious body along with the other two men are loaded onto a tram to a slaughterhouse. Nora discovers another captive next to her post, a woman who is being ordered by a woman, and asks what's going on, just to answer that she doesn't want to know and that there's no way out. Alec wakes up and also finds himself in a cage, stripped of his clothes and sepp. The first one tries to start the bus, however, women find that the back of the bus is full of masked people who have been waiting for them. One of the common people, a slow-minded, stressed-out man named Andrew, tries to comfort her, even though he talks to her like a pet, only for the woman to tie herself up, calling him sick. The woman explains that the people who run the place, saw her and Alec at the rest stop they had passed. One of the masked people has her back to her and she takes the opportunity to hit her head with a hammer. Panic, she tries to free herself and calls Alec. After the landlord and her husband leave, the mother cries hysterically for her son. Disappointed, he orders the others to find Andrew. Taking your baby, she proceeds to measure her weight before her henchman breaks her skull on the floor and takes the body away. The woman reveals that she has been held on the farm for two years and that she has been raised to the point where she can no longer get pregnant and is relieved that it will soon be over. Climbing up from under the bed, the masked man hovers over the couple threateningly. Plot [] Warning: this text contains details about the plot/end of the movie. Meat used to provide a catering service for weddings and the like. Just as Nora goes to the door, the man tells her that she is not "safe here". Nora shrugs at her warning and the couple leaves the restaurant. However, he accidentally tilts the food pot causing him to run in fear of punishment. Hearing another crying voice, the woman explains him as Ashley, another two-year-old captive. The pawn who chases him enters to rebuke Andrew and then he is ordered to take care of the woman who cannot produce milk. The two escape from the stables, silently trying to avoid the pawns. Later, the couple meets a woman whose car has died. Seizing the opportunity, Nora sees a rock outside her cage. Later, the masked men of the farm are seen gathered at a table, where two main dishes are presented: Nora and Ashley prepared like roasted pigs with apples in their mouths. Andrews pleads that it wasn't his fault and is dragged back to the landlord. Nora soon sees the other woman being carved and slaughtered like meat before her eyes. Nora wants to find a bathroom she'll check the back and The remains of a camp where you can find a discarded wallet and cell phone. A couple of the Ingels, Nora and Alec, meet while driving around the field. Back in the car, Nora talks to Alec about the abandoned camp behind the³ station on the way, noticing the things left behind. In the dairy barn, where several lactating cage women are kept, the owner reviews their production rates³ before fulfilling his care³ a mother with her baby. Livestock being human; Men who are caught and slaughtered for meat and women raised for milk. As they fall asleep, a man carrying a sheep's skin has hidden beneath the frame. Elsewhere, one of the masked men finds Andrew in the slaughterhouse, playing with a pair of decapitated heads. With difficulty, she manages to squeeze her hand through the mesh, grab the rock and try to use it to hit the lock of her cage. They are surprised by the appearance³ the subject of the crooked face. The owner kindly greets them and hears that they are looking for a room³ they are looking for a room. It even approaches a male cadA ver. Unknown to the couple, the upper bunk of the room³ is stained with blood. ALEC tries to resist and escape through the opening, but it is eliminated. The goat man returns with a man with a cow's skin, who proceeds to pour a boat over his head. To the mercy of his captors, Alec's head is crushed with a rock. Running, Alec is caught in a bear trap. In the men's barn, Nora hides behind a wall, just like Andrew and the owner walk in. Angry and wounded, he calls him a "human" evil. One of the hands comes to investigate the dairy barn and finds that Andrew had killed the woman and informed the owner. Alec is worried about the man, but Nora thinks he was just a "freak." Stopping at a service station³ fill the car³ Alec asks the cashier for a place to stay and is directed to some cabins rental on the road. As the butchers leave, Nora collapses in despair only to be awakened by a sound at her door. Three masked people spread out and rushed to her after her. The film follows a young man.
