

I'm not robot!

Personal Response on "Ten Things I Hate About Me"

By Nadiah Abu Bakar
PISMP PK/PJ 1

I would like to response on the novel I have read, entitled "Ten Things I Hate About Me" written by Randa Abdel Fattah. The story tells about a life of a Lebanese-Muslim girl named Jamilah who stays in Australia with her family. Her parents immigrated to Australia when they were young and Jamilah lost her mother when she was nine years old. She rose by her father with her older sister and brother with full of challenges. Jamilah is 16 years old and she is stuck by the impression of her school crowd about her heritage and her 'Stone Age' father that brought her into split characters. In school, she is an Aussie-blond girl named Jamie and a Muslim girl at home- Jamilah. She lives in hypocrisy life for a long time until one day she revealed her true identity to her colleagues in their Ten Year Formal Dinner.

I chose this novel because it is very interesting and the story is similar to my life. Jamilah is confused on her own identity just like all the normal teenage girls in the world. She hid her real identity in school because she doesn't want to be 'different' from her colleagues. This is because some of her friends will label anybody who is from Middle East or Mediterranean as a terrorist. At home, she has to obey all her father's rules and curfew. She follows it but in her inside, she is rebel. In my opinion, nowadays there are many people who live as a hypocrite just to fit in their society or group. They feel like the society will not accept them as who they are if they be their own self. But, for me, being a hypocrite person in life is not my choice. If I were Jamilah, I will be my own self whether in school or at home. It is because I could feel Jamilah's feeling when she has to hide her character in school. It happened to me when I was in my primary school. I have to change my character just because to fit in a group. It was suffering and terrible. At last, I could not stand anymore to hide my true self and I show my real identity. I was grateful because my friends accepted me after that just like before. So, the storyboard of my past time is just similar to Jamilah's story.

Your Best Executive Summary Ever

An executive summary has basically nothing to do with product presentation, and everything to do with a persuasive sales pitch. It is far more than an abstract which merely presents the rest of the document—it's your unique opportunity to convince the reader that your solution provides the best value proposition: the best benefit at the lowest cost.

The more technical your proposal, the more important the executive summary is likely to be. Unlike the abstract, the executive summary steers clear of technicalities to instead concentrate on substantiating the benefits for the customer.

How to Write an Executive Summary

Executive Summary First
By writing your executive summary first, you ensure that the rest of your proposal will be aligned with the persuasive message you want to deliver.

Executive Summary Content
Your executive summary should contain your value proposition, which should be grasped right away by your reader. Read the discussion how to write an Executive Summary to help you identify the necessary information for laying down your value proposition through the use of "win themes."

It is highly recommended that you read the suggestions below in order to properly and successfully use the executive summary template and sample.

1. Identify 3 main benefits—no more, no less—that your executive summary will cover, putting them in descending order of importance. This is the way they will appear in your document body, since you want to grab the reader's attention as early as possible.
2. For each benefit, write a simple, declarative, and persuasive sentence by applying the S.P.A. rule for your value proposition:

It's Share Knowledge
Writing Styles: Topic Sentences

Worksheet 7

When using expository writing you need to start your writing with a topic sentence that lets the reader know what they are going to be reading about. This should include the subject and a little information. Expository writing does not use "I" feelings or statements. Write a topic sentence for each selection.

1. This is a day each year that you gather with family and friends to celebrate the day of your birth. There are usually cake and presents for the person being celebrated. Some families have unique traditions such as a trip to a favorite restaurant or a special type of cake. Sharing birthdays is something special for many people.

Topic Sentence: _____

2. Taking out the trash, emptying the dishwasher or cleaning your room are all chores that are common. These are things that help out around the house and help you learn the importance of hard work. A job well done is something to be proud of in life. Chores are something that need to be done each day or week.

Topic Sentence: _____

3. Knowing how to get out of the house in case of a fire is important. You should have two escape routes from each part of the house. You can also practice basic fire safety before a fire by knowing where fire extinguishers are, how to put out small fires like a grease fire, and knowing how to stay safe. Simple things like unplugging hair tools, blowing out candles, and not leaving the stove on are also important.

Topic Sentence: _____

Challenge: Write a topic sentence and a paragraph with supporting facts on the back of this worksheet.

DOCTORAL THESIS RESEARCH PROPOSAL

Department of Statistics Faculty of Science

The University PhD Statute 2003 (Reg 5 a ii) requires that during provisional registration (i.e. first year) a candidate complete a fully developed research proposal, including a provisional thesis title, a schedule of research, an outline of thesis structure and a statement of the resources required to complete the research. The research proposal should be submitted for approval to the Postgraduate Committee of the Department of Statistics. This should be done as soon as possible, but before the end of the provisional year at the latest. The Committee may accept the proposal, or indicate to the candidate and supervisor(s) changes needed and request a resubmission, or it may decline to accept the proposal. It will inform the Director of the School/Head of Department of its decision.

PhD candidates should note that the proposal should be a significant document (5-10 pages). It should be enough to establish that the thesis is appropriate for a PhD and that he/she seems capable of completing in good time.

The proposal should include:

Provisional Thesis Title

Names of Supervisors/Advisors

Objectives / Aims:

Clearly specify the purpose of this research. Include the main research questions and hypotheses.

Contribution of the proposed research:

Briefly describe and evaluate the existing literature. In what ways will your contribution be significant and original?

Methodology:

Briefly outline the processes, techniques and methodologies or the theoretical approach that will be used to achieve the objectives above.

Proposed thesis structure:

Outline the proposed structure of the thesis

Schedule / Timeline of Research:

Outline the proposed schedule or timeline for this research including completion dates for each stage. Outline work already completed or in progress to date.

Ethical Approvals:

Is ethics approval required? If so, has it been applied for or obtained?

Resources:

What resources are needed? Are all these resources currently available and do you have access to them? If not, how they are to be procured?

Essay writing template for high school students. Essay template for high school.

Basic A4 story planning template with titles, short descriptions and space for writing. Sections: Introduction, build-up, conflict, solution and ending, story telling, short stories free template, word template, download Story telling worksheet pdf Please leave a comment and rate my work. get more free digital planners, stickers, binder rings, free templates for educators and more. www.wixsite.com/store/page2 DIGITAL, COMMON CORE ALIGNED AND REAL WORLD RELATED CONTENTThe two FREE, 22 pages of digital lessons in this resource were extracted from the Teaching Entrepreneurship curriculum guide; which includes 334 pages of lessons, rubrics, activities, assignments, worksheets and a abundance of blended learning for your students. What is an Entrepreneur? We begin the course with an exploration of what it means to be an entrepreneur: what an entrepreneur does, what he/she acts like, values, and Page 3 Get your students to fully elaborate when they write or answer questions with this free template and teaching idea. This template and activity is a fun way to get students to visualize what it means to elaborate about their thinking. Use this for helping students to write essays and elaborate on their ideas. Use this to accompany popular stories such as Spaghetti in a Hot Dog Bun or any book that you are reading. Click the follow button for updates about products as well as freebies. -----Subjects: Types: Bio Poem Activity (free!) by Bio Poem Activity and Sample. Includes directions and a teacher sample. This is a great activity for the beginning of the school year and for students to use when taking on the character or persona of an author, historical figure, or other famous person. Can be used for all grade levels. Part of my Introduction Activities package selling for $1.50 which ALSO includes: *All About Me Activity directions for students *All About Me teacher sample *Blank Bubble Map template *Student Bingo sheet *Showing 49-51 of 64+ results For black history month, have students research a famous African American person and use that research to create an essay, map, and timeline. This no prep resource is scaffolded to help all of your students be successful with report writing. A digital version for use with Google Classroom / Google Slides of the students project has recently been added for your convenience. However, this resource was originally designed as a printable, and the scaffolding will not be as effective digitally. TWriting informational essays will be exciting with this complete resource that breaks the process down into manageable steps! Easy-to-follow writing templates guide students in drafting their introduction, body paragraphs, and conclusion. Five original mentor texts are included for modeling, along with topic suggestions, pre-writing organizers, and rubrics. And with five different types of essays, you'll have everything you need to teach informative writing with differentiation. Perfect for write Teach your students how to write amazing compare and contrast essays in 2022 with this COMPLETE UNIT of work which guides students through the process of research, analysis and articulating their thoughts into a well-structured essay. Ensure your students understand the PURPOSE, STRUCTURES and STRATEGIES to compare and contrast essay that ENGAGES AN AUDIENCE through scaffolded, proven teaching methods. You are Getting * Lesson Plans * Graphic Organizers * Interactive media to engage students * IndepenThe perfect essay template is here!! Guide your students, with the help of this essay template for Informative/Explanatory writing. Most students need that extra guided help to ease them through the writing process. Look no further; here you will find an in depth template for writing an essay. Template breaks down every part of the essay: Introduction, Body Paragraph 1 (with evidence), Body Paragraph 2 (with evidence), Body Paragraph 3 (with evidence), and Conclusion. Each part of the essay is in a Paragraph Essay Writing Template! This template helps students organize their essays. Each body paragraph has prompts to help students complete topic, detail and clincher sentences. There is even a place for them to write down a quick brainstorm. Special instructions assist students with Introductory and concluding paragraphs. This template is perfect for students with language-based learning issues. It works for literary, persuasive, expository and informational essays. Plus, it is easily adaptable for the unique needs of both Grades 5th - 12th. Adult Education! ESSAY WRITING TEMPLATE Paragraph Frames Everything you need! by ESSAY PLAN PAGE AND ESSAY WRITING TEMPLATE FRAME UNIVERSAL ESSAY PLAN PAGE AND ESSAY FRAME *Template ONLY - no essay questions included *These 5 resources can be used in order when responding to an essay prompt. It works great for the standard 4 paragraph essay format as well as responding to specific standard essay questions. Please note that reference to "BULLET #1 and BULLET #2" refers to the tasks that are demanded in the essay prompt. Included in this download: 1. Essay Plan! Need a way to review writing skills before standardized testing without burning your students out? Also included is an answer document on which students can practice using a bubble sheet. This is a set of 18 task cards (PRINT and DIGITAL) that address different elements of writing such as: Characteristics of Narrative, Informative, and Opinion Essays; Correct punctuation of dialogue; Correct punctuation of direct quotes; Transition words; Parts of The Painted Essay; This bundle also includes of a post-writing an essay is difficult in any language. This template takes the student step by step and guides them on how to write an essay. It's fully in Spanish and is appropriate for AP Spanish and Spanish for Spanish Speakers for each grade level 7 - 12 that reflect the standards. This unit has everything you need, in a logical order, with teacher notes, handouts, assignments, instruction, grading rubrics, and supplemental material to support more advanced instruction. There are examples for each concept, and a full sample student essay. Includes updated ML Page 6! This no-prep, fun and engaging Mandala Project will have AVID students creating an artistic mandala and writing an essay about themselves. Students in the AVID elective will practice introspection and writing skills. This is a great AVID project for any grade level, or any college and career readiness class. The whole project took at least a couple weeks, with the creating of the mandalas, sharing them, writing the essays, proofreading, typing, etc. My AVID students loved this assignment, and Page 7 THESIS STATEMENT CENTERED: Argumentative essay writing workshop for middle school. PRINTABLE OR USE WITH EASEL. Teach students to construct all of the elements of argument writing, brick by brick, to complete a full, perfectly sequenced essay. Every section is thoroughly explained with videos, mentor texts, instructions, examples, links, and tips, allowing students to work at their own pace, and freeing you to work closely with struggling writers. Whole class teaching is a breeze with this buildPage 8 Cause and Effect, Expository, and Persuasive Essay Templates to help your struggling writers understand the layout and format of essay writing - freshly updated and Google Classroom-friendly! Includes three fill-in-the-blank five-paragraph essay templates: Expository, Persuasive, and Cause and Effect. Students are given topics to write about, and fill in the blanks following a formulaic setup. Works very well for ESL, ELL, SPED, SDC, reluctant writers, or those students who are really strugglPage 9 This EDITABLE semester exam, final test or pretest includes: 60 multiple choice questions + 3 Essay Topics - Key and Essay Grading Rubric Ready-to-use, but customizable! Questions written with skills in mind, not specific literature! This final exam is ready to use by anyone! Use as a pre-test, question bank, final / semester exam, or for review. Questions are about: story structure terms, character terms, figurative language, reading skills comprehension, vocabulary in context, basic sentence strucPage 10 Now includes Google, PDF, and Office versions! Transitional words, phrases, or sentences are like great waiters: they improve the timing and flow of the entire meal (essay) to control your satisfaction. Use this easy simile to teach your students why transitions matter and how to use them. This handout can be used as a full 45-minute lesson, or a writer's workshop tool just to differentiate for the students who need it. This handout (PDF, Google Slides, and editPage 11 Supercharge your students' understanding of argumentative writing with this collection of real, thesis statement centered, student essays and rubrics designed for your students to evaluate and edit! After all, the best way to learn to write an essay is to GRADE them! Students will evaluate: hook, background information, thesis statement, topic sentences, evidence, elaboration, transitions, and conclusion. This resource includes 2 WORKSHOPS-WORKSHOP 1- Essay Analysis: 9 argumentative essays writPage 12 This interactive literary analysis workshop teaches students the elements and structure of literary analysis using outline, fun sticky notes, graphic organizers, instructions, mentor texts, video links, an analysis of the short film THE PRESENT, and plenty of space to build each paragraph. USE WITH ANY OF THESE FORMATS: GOOGLE SLIDES, PAPER, EASEL! Students will be guided through the entire process with clear, user friendly instructions. Each paragraph is a color-coded workshop of its own, makPage 13 Looking for a poetry unit and additional resources to use throughout the year? This is a complete five week unit plan for poetry covering figurative language, imagery, sound, rhyme, and types of poetry. This unit includes homework, bell ringers & exit tickets, note taking PowerPoints, poetry analysis worksheets, a poetry glossary, quizzes (four levels), poetry analysis writing prompts, structured poetry writing prompts (for all those students who say they can't write poems), a jeopardy-likPage 14 Now includes Google, PDF, and Office versions! To continue the metaphor that Essays are like Meals... if a thesis statement promised what was to come (like a menu), then the body paragraphs are the time to deliver! Use this easy simile to teach your students why essays need body paragraphs, how they function in an essay overall, and what a "good" one contains. This handout can be used as a full 45-minute lesson, an activity for a mini-lesson, or a writer's workshop tool just to differentiate for Page 15 This THESIS STATEMENT CENTERED Argumentative essay BUILDER will teach students to construct all of the elements of argument writing, brick by brick, to complete a full, perfectly sequenced essay. Every section is so thoroughly explained with videos, mentor texts, instructions, examples, links, and tips, that motivated students can work through at their own pace, allowing them to maximize their learning and prevent boredom. Whole class teaching is a breeze with this builder because it is chunkPage 16 Need resources to keep yourself and your students organized while writing paragraphs, essays, or a research project? This product includes ALL of my writing graphic organizers, rubrics, and handouts in one download. To make this product, I went through all of my writing products and pulled out any graphic organizers, rubrics, and handouts that I could find, and compiled them into one document. Each page in this product helps support essay writing- especially opinion writing, informative writing. Page 17 Get ready to teach your Middle School students how to write text-based Argumentative Essays by starting with the critical vocabulary: claim, opposing claim, counter-argument (counterclaim), evidence, reasoning, relevant evidence, audience, purpose, logos, ethos and pathos. All of these terms are included in these printable AND digital interactive guided notes I call Pixanotes@! Pixanotes@ are a blend of the structure of traditional two-column notes and visual/interactive noPage 18 PowerPoint Lesson (29 slides) covering indirect characterization techniques (appearance, speech, actions, private thoughts, other's reactions) and key terms: protagonist, antagonist, round character, flat character, dynamic character, and static character. Notes for students to fill in while viewing PowerPoint presentation Two fun and engaging group activities for students to apply their knowledge of indirect characterization techniques! A handout listing character traits to help students verbalizePage 19 TEACH ACADEMIC AND CRITICAL THINKING SKILLS USING FILM! A 119 page COMPLETE unit on the film 'I' is the perfect film to use in an English, History, Philosophy, Religious Studies, and Film course. This unit has the similar set up as all units in the Academic Lessons store. NO "FLUFF"! This unit focuses on LITERARY DEVICES, SKILLS APPLICATION, and FILM ANALYSIS. Unit includes viewing guide questions and quizzes, vocabulary, literary analysis activities, and AP style tests and essays. Includes a sampPage 20 Ask a student about "Cancel Culture," and you will get an earful. Through Instagram Influencers' shade, YouTube standoffs, Snapchat snapbacks, and TikTok tiffs, media-savvy teens are experts and can teach you a thing or two about Cancel Culture. This lesson set develops students' arguments about Cancel Culture. Students will show mastery of the standards at the end of the lesson through a SOAPSTone Analysis, a Socratic Seminar, short paragraph responses, and a rhetorical analysis or argument esPage 21 This 3-page U.S. Constitution Test (with ANSWER KEY) includes the following sections: Vocabulary Matching, Multiple-Choice, T/F, Short Answer, and Short Essay (total of 60 questions, worth 80 points). Topics include: Articles of Confederation, Virginia & New Jersey Plan, 3 Branches of Government, how a bill becomes a law, preamble, amendments, etc. Page 22 This powerpoint teaches how to write "lead" or "hook" sentences in an essay. It includes the definition of lead or hook sentences; the purpose of a lead; and fully explains seven types of leads (action, snapshot, sound effect, question, flashback, quotation, talking), giving the definition and an example of each type. Created by Beverly Brown, this 12 slide powerpoint is fully animated, vividly colored, full of illustrations and clip art, and will be an excellent teaching tool in your classrooPage 23 Now includes Google, PDF, and Office versions! Evidence in a paragraph is like a well-seasoned meal: it's more exciting, appeals more to the consumer, and fully finishes the meal. Use this easy simile to teach your students why essays NEED evidence. This handout can be used as a full 45-minute lesson, an activity for a mini-lesson, or a writer's workshop tool just to differentiate for the students who need it. This handout (PDF, Google Slides, and editable PPT files), applicable to argumentatPage 24 Teach literary analysis by writing in response to inspirational and engaging videos! No prep student printables and Google Doc. Perfect for distance learning or google Classroom activities! TEST PREP is FUN with VIDEO CLIPS, SONGS + SPOKEN WORD! WRITING PROMPT: Choose a specific literary element (theme, characterization, structure, point of view, etc.) or literary technique (symbolism, irony, dialogue, figurative language, etc.). In a well-developed paragraph show how the author used that element! Page 25 This 3 paragraph literary analysis essay builder teaches students the elements and structure of literary analysis with highly scaffolded instructions, examples, graphic organizers, mentor texts, video links, and plenty of space to build each paragraph, on a manageable scale for struggling writers. This workshop is a small model of a larger essay, and can be used to differentiate for struggling writers in higher grades, and works well for 6th grade students who are on level. Learning thesis statePage 26 Transition Word Bank for Essays! Autism Behavior and Teaching Tools! This Transition Word Bank for Essays is chock full of transition words for Introductory Paragraphs Introductory Sentences Supporting Paragraphs First, Second, Third and Supporting Sentences Closing and Conclusion Sentences Goes great with: and ve bundled all of my literary analysis writing products! When you purchase this product you'll receive all of my current AND future writing products that can be used to help your students polish their writing about literature! You'll receive: 1. Literary Analysis Guide to use with ANY text: This guide is a great resource for students who struggle with knowing "what to look for and what to say about it" in a piece of literature. I have broken down the key literary elements and put them in a concisRebecca Skloot, who wrote The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks, also wrote an opinion essay in the New York Times on ownership of human cells and permission on their use. As society learns more about the diverse voices that are instrumental to recent contributions to scientific and medical foundations, Henrietta Lacks -a mild-mannered Black mom from the 1960s- should have her profile raised to the ranks of Harriet Tubman and Rosa Parks. A link to Skloot's essay is provided in the product and isThis pack includes 24 half page task cards (16 different prompts) to use when practicing essay writing skills. Each card includes a prompt, a controlling idea, and three reasons to support the controlling idea. (All of these prompts are my own work based on text sets that I have created.). I also included a set that is 4 to a page with just the prompt. (The prompts are the same as the other task cards; they are just in a different order, and they don't include the controlling idea and reasons.)  These 3 writing units are interactive, 100% editable, and no-prep digital resources ready to help your students succeed and become more confident writers! Includes 3 complete step-by-step writing guides walking through every step of the writing process for each unit. Cut out the overwhelm and implement this strategy for success! WRITING GENRES INCLUDED: Informative Research-based Essay * Personal Narrative Persuasive Essay * The Informative Essay Unit is always a bestseller in my store! PERFECT Informative Essay - Step by step writing directions Writing prompt, articles, outline directions, and essay - aligns with Florida Literacy Test and upcoming FSA writing style. Students read three sources and use them to write on the proposed prompt in a simulated research informative essay. The articles are very simplified, so this is a great scaffold/starting piece, to use with grades 5-8. After trying all the practice prompts in the book, I had to create my own method to help students create an effective outline before writing. This is an engaging and comprehensive bundle that your students can use in a variety of ways. You'll find yourself using it year after year. Contents: 1) An editable introduction to literary criticism explaining the purpose and process of criticism - critiques (written broadly enough to relate to criticism of any art form). 2) A "generic" and editable student worksheet guiding them through a critical review of ANY work of fiction! 3) Group Critique Procedures Project Rubric Rubric for Paragraph and Essay by  FREE PRODUCT!  There are student printables for both paragraph and essay writing. The prompt was chosen to fit both paragraph and essay writing to offer differentiation. Print them front/back and staple! PARAGRAPH SECTION : Page 1: Prewriting Organizer / Rough Draft / Checklist Page 2: Final Copy / Rubric ESSAY SECTION: (Prompts work well for 3-5 paragraph essays) Page 1: Prewriting Organizer Page 2: Rough Draft Page 3: Rough Draft (cont) and checklist Page 4: Final Copy Page 5: Final Copy (coEvery English teacher needs new ways to teach argument, rhetoric, and analytical writing. The Inquiry-Based Synthesis Essay is here to save the day! This argument essay is designed to help you out in a quick fix OR to teach in-depth rhetorical analysis. The essay can be scaffolded up or down, from highly difficult and challenging to ELL and SPED friendly. In a nutshell: The essay question asks students to develop an argument about the question: does a #hashtag create real social change? The! This 100% editable lesson for Martin Luther King, Jr. Day or for teaching argumentative essay writing with exemplars is no prep. Your high school students will be engaged and challenged as they work through the carefully paired texts and expertly written prompt. If your state has adopted Common Core testing, then this comparing and contrasting literary analysis is directly aligned with that format. If not, a task such as this one will definitely add a challenging component to your reading and TEACHER NOTES: This is what I use to introduce to my students the suggested components for each essay type for AP Lang (Rhetorical Analysis, Argumentative, and Synthesis). While some may argue that this may be formulaic, I say our students need the basics first before learning how to manipulate the style and organization of their essay. :) Something that I use is "Says, Means, Matters" and you may see it appear in the outlines as "sm/m." You can Google search a few examples but it is essent! These upper elementary informative writing prompts are Common Core aligned, editable, and are great to help your students write an expository essay about Women's Rights. Students will complete a text-dependent analysis by using information from 10 free articles about Women's Rights, women in history, and current events related to women's rights (links included!) to support their response to one of the three informative writing prompts. This informative essay resource includes: Teacher Directions

